JEROME REVEALS > exclusive interview with our EASA-leader inside!

DANCE NOW

A wise man once said that "TALKING ABOUT LOVE IS LIKE DANCING WITH ARCHITECTURE" Clever words one might say, but not some that have hurt the participants of the density workshop because they try anyway. Tonight you will have the chance to make your own opinion of this workshop when they give their first performance. This happening will take place in the room behind the smallest sleeping area at 19:00.

DELI CORNER

Today's baguette proofed a bit sloppy but colourful as allways. Maybe we are too close to Belgium to get the original french baguette: hard as a rock, able to crush a wall, but well, the sunny Greek smiles of todays breakfast crew made up for everything.

Exclusive! Soccer tournament hits EASA, fever starts taking hold of several national supporter groups, no violence yet has been reported, but strong national feelings are surfacing, sleeping areas being dominated by a colourful bunch of flags.

Will the Dutch win again? Missing Portuguese EASA participants have been contacted, they could still win a European cup, but Spanish authorities didn't allow them to cross Spanish borders, resulting from a strong wish to reach quarter-finales for once. Greek NC's are still looking for Greek-appearing EASA participants for they only brought girls, the males stayed home to keep-up Feta production and to prevent the goats from eating all the Zaziki.

Unconfirmed sources have reported on Germans secretly practising their skills, Italians allready gave up. Several mixed-country teams have subscribed, still the Paraplu psychological team has severe doubts on influence on mental EASA WEATHER!

Tomorrow finally it might rain with the temerature slightly dropping. Stay within close range of a shelter, put your laptop in your sleepingbag. DRINK ADVICE: make sure your chocolate's hot and don't forget to bring a paraplu!

PARANORMAL???

So dudes, the band was really into tubes and tunes, searching for groupies all night long...you might have caught eyecontact tries all over the stage, afterwards band-babes hunting down their groupie prey. And then gay-prey, some swedish and croatian students were almost to be trapped in an undercover gaybar!! walking through downtown, bumping into some nice chairs in front, yes, lets have a coffee here, but they noticed only guys toilette and three charming representatives in leather. And watch out, your friends might forget health of mixing different nationalities. Czech/Swiss Supporter have been reported having arguments about holes in the Swiss defense said to match the ones in their cheese. Soccerfield is still missing, but french materialman Bertrand will make sure there's a ball...

PARTICIPANTS WANTED

Marie-Louise (DK) & Jerome (FR) need participants for their building workshop called SOLIDARITE. They are constructing a building and library. Please contact them if you want to join!

you in a metro, because you seemed like having a nice nap.10 spanish friends entered, 9 got out..so what, they forgot just 1 friend. Have you ever had some dark greyed material in your nose, here some had it even real black..is it really the Dust? The good thing is that supercold&colder showers take care of your bloodstream, so circulate! Last but the most, food of world tops rewards us all with all that gas kickers..farting all over la condition publique. Just do it!! And those french keyboards?

SEARCHING PLAYMATES

Manipulation with perception and emotions seemed to be an interesting medium for exploration. In order to change the perception of the given site (in this case: city of Roubaix), to interfere in the field of emotions wich are related to a specific site, we are proposing a game that consists of random tasks inspired by situationist actions; By interpreting the city of Roubaix only as a playing field, we tried to detach from existing conditions.

Game rules:

- metropolitain=Roubaix
- micropolitain=human interactions, actions, created environment...
- 3 to 4 participants of 2 people
- 1 fixed group (2 to 3 mobile groups)
- final destination unknown
- every destination is marked with sticker (3 colours)

JEBROME TALKS

What do you think of Germans?

I never liked them. We act nice upon them, but that's just a facade: when the time's ripe, we'll invade their country, enslave them to build a bigger Versailles and a taller Eiffeltower...

What's your most attractive part?

Eh..well, next to my Frenchness of course, it would be my cute French accent when I speak English. We learned this at school, to impress foreign woman.

What's wrong with the French woman?

They're too demanding.

What do you eat for breakfast?

Anything, as long as it's French.

What do you think of the design for the new WTC in NY?

It is still a widespread misunderstanding that this design will be taller than the Eiffeltower.

What is your prime motivation?

To keep France in the centre of the Universe

My last relationship lasted for six months...I lost 32 pounds. my docter advised me to break up.

TEXTILE CITY'S SEXY FLESH FILLS SHOWERS

Twenty three people met up in the showers, dressed in their fancy bikinis and swim strings for a workshop presentation. Paraplu is really proud on this kind of `experiments`, we want to see more of this! They said it is a good way of breaking down the body boundaries and to get closer to each other....mmmmmmmmmmmm

After the cool down they could work twice as hard on their project because of a good body temperature, they are working in the city where they want to add catalysts in public spaces so people will interact with those areas.

French girl eradicates competition

Anybody who was passing by the improvised table tennis yesterday couldn't have missed the spectacular play by Amelie from France. She easily dismissed all who dared to confront her at the table, and it looked like she wasn't even trying! So if you are eager to test your table tennis abilities, Amelie is definitely the one to talk to. Also, we heard that her table tennis skills are nothing compared to the way she plays football. So watch out. Besides her obvious talent for sports, in the evening she demonstrated an incredible skill of blowing balloons made of spit!

ATTENTION

Go to the info point to sign the letter of dismissal. It is important that everybody does it!

Big barbecue at Mr Teneur's farm

Sunday 1st / 14:00 hrs

Finally we can party whole the night? Special sources reported a sauna is being build.

LOVEBOX

Sensational news: international lovemaking competition begins! The country with the largest number of confirmed intercoursers wins! Each participant has to sign his and her country in the lovebook. Cheaters will be disqualified by the love patrol. Keep your shoes off and take care about hygiene.

DAILY EASA FASHION IDEAS

DAVID REVEALS ALL

D: I was broke.

U: In your view, which EASA was most efficient and which was most fun?

D: Most efficient was the 1997. EASA in Scandinavia (held in train), but most fun EASA was in Poland 1995.

U: Have the things changed radically since your first appearance?

D: No

U: Do you always wear a kilt?

D: Only since 1994. when I bought it.

U: Do you wear underwear under it?

D: Hell no.

U: What is your favourite western movie?

D: Life & times of judge Roy Bean.

U: Who is your favourite architect?

D: Sigurd Lewerentz.

U: How young are you?

D: Only 41 years old.

U: Does the ring around your neck has some background meaning?

D: It was given to me in Slovenia on Sesam. It can tell time by the Sun and as a joke I tell the people it's a cock ring U: Does it fit?

D: No comment.

U: What do you think on influence of ultra violen beams to the puberty of ants in South Vietnam?

D: CIA stands for cunts in America. Otherwise don't get me started.

U: Do you drink beer all the time?

D: No, sometimes I drink other alchocolic drinks.

If this is your first EASA you have probably been wondering who is the scottish guy wearing a kilt who goes around the camp, and if you are returning to EASA you wonder is he going to be there the next year. For this reason our reporter caught him on secret place in campus and ask him some questions. His name is David Eggelstone and he is not an EASA virgin. Just oposite. He is a living dinosaur. So read carefully what he's got to say:

U: Did you know that you are accepted as an EASA simbol?

D: Only by the feeble minded.

U: When and where was your first EASA experience?

D: It was in 1991. in Verxho Turie in SSSR, but it was only part one of the EASA that year.

U: Why didn't you attend EASA in Denmark last year?

URBAN ELECTRICITY?

Organisation is searching for technicians! Electricity is rare these days, we have to safe on it! The photo workshop took to much power and because of the fall out, internet went down for several hours. Paraplu's tip of the day: Save your work often! Organisation makes humble excuses to all participants.

RUMOURS

Who the band ended up with last night. Could last nights band be more rock and roll. Well I guess not after what we have heard happened after the show. The frontsinger of the band, put her teeth in one of the danish guys (No names revealed of course;)

NEW DRESCODE UNLEASHED

At the general meeting this morning, the executive of the La condition public expressed her fear of the easa participants safety within the La condition public. But it is not inside but outside the La condition that the participants should fear for their safety. Out there your car will be broken into and a participant already experienced being robbed of all her money and her passport. The latest is a general warning from the organizers about not going outside the La condition public if you are a girl and wearing hotpants or something smaller. It is said to be dangerous because of the muslim area that we are in. The hardworking crew of De Paraplu can only regret that the girls will have to wear trousers outside, but hope they will change them back immediately for hotpants inside the La condition public.

but it was said to have been a truly french, jealous, thrown around the bad experience for the danish guy that is still recovering from the events. The drummer of the band used a not so often seen tactic for her bed adventure. During the night

A: Sound perception /yes.

N: What is a workshop?

she went into the slovenien sleeping quarters and layed herself down next to the first guy she found. The couple was last seen entering the showers around 5 in the night. Some rumours also tell about a belgian girl and the gitarist of the band, but this is all we can say right now.
